

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
August 26, 2020

FOR INFORMATION, CONTACT:
Amy Wayne, Human Resources Manager
Amy.Wayne@LREwater.com

LRE WATER ANNOUNCED AS WINNER OF THE LARGE CATEGORY IN THE DENVER BUSINESS JOURNAL'S 2020 SMALL BUSINESS AWARDS

DENVER, COLORADO - LRE Water is excited to announce that the firm won the award for the 2020 Denver Business Journal Small Business Awards in the Large Category (31 - 50 employees). The Denver Business Journal and partner Bank of the West hosted the 2020 Small Business Awards on August 24, 2020. Due to local COVID-19 restrictions, the ceremony was held virtually. The Small Business Awards honor excellence, community contribution, and economic achievements among small businesses in the Denver metro area.

“The only way we can win an award like this is by having an excellent staff that’s invested in and proud of their company. I’m grateful to be a part of it,” said Cortney Brand, President and CEO, after it was announced LRE Water won the award. “It’s especially meaningful this year given that it’s our 50th anniversary.”

This year’s ceremony highlighted local small businesses and their responses to the global pandemic. The nominees presented their unique responses to the pandemic regarding firm resiliency, recovery in the short term, and rebuilding in the long term. LRE Water is honored to receive this award from a group of impressive, talented local businesses.

“It is the committed and dedicated professionals at LRE who live our vision and create our culture, and the committed clients who value our vision and our culture--and who appreciate and benefit from our expert advice that makes our company such an excellent small business,” said Gregg Ten Eyck, LRE Water’s former President and Senior Project Manager.

###

For 50 years, LRE Water has provided leadership in engineering and consulting services related to planning, managing, and developing water resources throughout Colorado and the western United States. LRE’s service areas include water rights and water supply planning, groundwater, environmental permitting, commercial water, and water information technology. Through technical expertise and excellence, LRE Water’s mission is connecting water to life.